

José Luis Pérez Martínez

Teaching areas:

Law

Email:

jperezma@nebrija.es

He holds a degree in Economics and Business Administration from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid and a degree in Law from the Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia, where he is currently pursuing his PhD in Law and Social Sciences, developing his thesis on Tort Law in relation to retail banking.

His entire professional life has been developed in the world of financial institutions. In this field, he is an expert in regulations and tools for the recovery of delinquency through the different procedures (payment order, ordinary, executive, bankruptcy, real estate adjudication).

He is also an expert in Information Systems Project Management, to which he adds a deep knowledge of the analysis of bank financial statements and management control.