2. CONTENTS

2.1. Previous requirements
Knowing how to manage written and spoken English is a sine qua non condition to have a good outcome in this course. A B2 level is highly recommended.

2.2. Description of contents
Didactics of English language teaching is a course designed for prospective English teachers who would like to ponder about the teaching/learning process of English as a Second Language/English as a Foreign Language.

The syllabus has been devised to raise prospective teacher’s awareness regarding the didactics and its components involved in the ESL/EFL class, and the use of materials and aids.

In order to reach these objectives, this course provides students with a historical approach on how education and language education evolved along time, then it goes on to discuss key terminology related to language and language education. The subject also deals with topics related methodologies, approaches, current trends and new tools. In the last part of the course, participants will discuss aspects concerning assessment of skills, proficiency and how language can be a useful tool to promote awareness, which will be crucial in the exercise of their profession.

2.4. Teaching methodology

The teaching methodology combines online teaching and autonomous work which rely on the use of Blackboard to support collaborative work (forums, chat, videoconference meeting) the guidance of the Professor (calendar, bulletin board, folder, links) and the delivery of jobs (tasks and tool box to work).

The program combines various elements to develop methodological reflection on Language Teaching and Learning. This is specified in an interactive methodology that requires the participation of students and teacher in the discussion of issues. Class participation is a key aspect of this course which is based on a communicative approach. Participation means being able to ask questions, answer questions when called upon, volunteering to answer to questions and actively listening to others.

Previous reading of the texts proposed for discussion and further consideration will allow students to seek information through the resources available and be able to judge it critically for use in further learning and research processes.
